Becoming Outliers

Every teacher is an R & D lab, wherein meaningful research is to be conducted in the domains of self-growth to become outliers. Extraordinariness and, uniqueness have to be institutionalized. There is no such thing as "once unique," "always unique." Uniqueness bestows innovation. These could be learning goals as part of lifelong learning, or on becoming an outlier.

All teachers must pledge to be outliers.

With warm regards,
