

The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.”

- Martin Luther King, Jr.

Dear Parents,

1 October, 2016

September has been an exciting and joyous month at Indus Junior School which was action-packed! The students were seen becoming more confident as individuals as they participated in various activities at school. Thanks to the energy and commitment of our wonderful team of teachers, the Indus Junior School is undoubtedly a dynamic hub of multi-cultural exchange, social interaction, creative thinking, discovery and learning on a daily basis.

Highlights for the month of September

Teachers Day

September was a month to remember and honour our teachers. Teachers Day is always special- a chance to appreciate and thank all our wonderful teachers who nurture our little angels and guide them on their journey.

On the 7th of September, a special assembly was organized by the parents of Indus Junior School where they sang, danced and played games with the teachers. We thank all the parents for making this month extremely special for our teachers with their overwhelming gestures, mails, cards and letters during the week of Teachers Day. It feels really encouraging to know that, as parents, you believe as much as we do in partnering in our philosophy of early childhood education where learning is incomplete without parental involvement.

Musicians Day

It was a pleasure to watch all the children perform with great confidence on the Musicians Day which was held on the 17th of September and 29th of September, 2016. Research shows music has a positive effect on learning, healing, and neurological development. Therefore, we at the Indus Junior School, provide musical exposure and experiences to our children in several ways ranging from vocal to instrumental development.

Individual music lessons have been a part of our curriculum where the child's talent is nurtured. Children created a variety of sounds by using percussion instruments such as the hand bells, tambourines etc which were played in time with the beat. This helped them develop the ability to perform accurately and confidently. We, at Indus, provide opportunities for practice and consistent exposure to music in order to produce mastery and lifelong appreciation.

Parent- Teacher meeting

Progress reports of the children were sent online to all our parents on 27th of September and the PTM for the 1st term was held on 1st of October. I am sure you have had an opportunity to review the progress of your child. Parent involvement is a valued part of child's school experience. Thank you all for your positive feedback. We look forward to your continued support and participation.

Upcoming Events- October:

2nd October- 16th October: Dussehra Break

17th October: Term 2 begins

28th October: Show 'n' Tell competition

29th October- 31st October: Diwali Holidays

The month of October is certainly going to be a very festive one. Wish you all a joyous Dussehra in advance!

Warm Regards,
