Dear Parents,

We are now treading the last month of the academic year and the teachers are in the process of winding up their academic schedules. We hope you have had a glimpse of your child's work and reviewed it with the class teacher.

Starting off, we had our Musicians day on the 7th of February. The children showcased their musical talents by singing songs, playing the keyboard, etc. Even the toddlers from pre nursery went up on stage to do their bit. It was a wonderful sight to see them dressed for the occasion so colourfully and to watch them perform. We would like to thank the parents for their presence at this event and for encouraging all the students.

The Art and Craft day was held on the 13th of February, combined with our "Come and See" event. It was a delight to see the students involving themselves at the potter's wheel and each child made a little mud pot for themselves. We also had an expert come in to handle the Origami workshop who did a great job at interacting with the students while teaching them the art of paper folding. We are glad that you all have also actively participated with your child in this event.

As we prefer engaging our students in an active learning process with practical rather than just theory-based knowledge, we decided incorporating activities based on the students' respective units would be an ideal approach to helping them learn. Our Nursery students were engaged with making their farm models. They proudly displayed their works of art - their models of a farm with all the farm animals, thus making an apt connection with their Unit which was based on "Farm". Also, students of PP1 quite thoroughly enjoyed the story-telling session conducted by Ms. Ritu Kumar, a story-telling expert. This helped them relate to their Unit on stories.

Meanwhile, the students of Reception went on a guided tour within the school premises to observe the spaces and facilities in and around the buildings to learn about and determine how they are utilised by people.

We are now eagerly looking forward to the mega event of the year - Indus Day, which is to be celebrated on the 28th of March. All the children are now toiling hard to put up a splendid performance that will aptly mark the end of this academic year.

Moreover, the progress reports will be intimated to you online on the 20th of March. The Parent Teacher Meeting will be held on the 30th. We hope you will attend to these in order to discuss and monitor the progress of your child.

The 31st of March will mark the graduation of our PP2 students. As these little ones are ending another phase of their journey, we wish them all the luck for their time ahead and hope they continue to make us all proud.

Looking forward to your presence on Indus day
