Dear Friends,

It is Payback Time

Nearly 90 percent of DP graduates go abroad for higher studies, and nearly 75 percent stay back and make the foreign land their home. Yet, irrespective of where you are, your identity will always be that of an Indian.

We are aware of the many grim realities and the challenges that are holding back India's progress and her rightful place in the world order, and we have two choices:

- a. Stand outside and criticize.
- b. Roll-up our sleeves, jump in and change things.

It is a clichéd argument that world citizens can contribute from anywhere in the world. The Gandhis, the Ambedkars, the Kalam, the Kailash Sathyarthi and scores of entrepreneurs, found their answers within India.

You too, must return. Your country needs you; it values you.

With warm regards,
